"We were excited for our opportunity to work with Culver Duck back in 2006. We felt there were some similarities in how we managed family-owned businesses that made them more than just another client to work for. Working with the Culver family and learning about the 'duck' business was a real pleasure. A few of us may have even acquired a taste for duck along the way!"

History:

- Culver Duck & DJ Construction partnered on two projects completed in 2006. The first project included a renovation and addition in order to increase the capacity of the farm's processing plant. The second addition yielded an additional 8,300 sq. ft. to the farm's hatchery building as well as a renovation of the existing hatchery.
- Following a 2007 fire sparked by lightning, a new hatchery building was constructed to replace the former structure destroyed by the fire. The new building contains 18,696 sq. ft. of space and was built with precast concrete wall panels and Strescore concrete roof panels.
- In 2011, an 8,025 sq. ft. addition to the freezer building was completed.
- Culver Duck farms originated in 1858 on Long Island, NY and moved to Northern Indiana in 1959. The award-winning company supplies gourmet quality duckling to restaurants and stores all over the nation.
