"Goshen College is a fixture in the Goshen community and a relationship that we value. They share our commitment to sustainable design practices. Clay Shetler has been overseeing the College's facilities for almost as long as I've been overseeing DJ. I appreciate that he keeps us in his mix of local contractors and respects our ability to handle challenging projects."

History:

- DJ performed window replacement projects in the 1980s on the science building and Coffman & Yoder Halls, and then completed a more significant renovation at Coffman Hall in 2007.
- DJ constructed an elevator addition at the High Park building when it was part of the college campus in 1983, and another elevator and stair tower addition to the Arts building in 1996.
- The most recent project was the renovation of a portion of the Union building into offices for Intercultural and International Education. This 12,730 square foot renovation included enhancements to corridors and common spaces and a unique glass partition wall that introduces natural light into the interior areas.
