"The Ironworks building is such a great example of a building designed tying the natural amenities of Mishawaka's Riverwalk and Bueter Park with an office environment. The interior views, the porch areas, and the walk-out area with views of the water features are truly outstanding. The building creates this really unique dynamic between the urban office function and the natural setting of the flowing water and Riverwalk."

History:

- DJ and Ironworks of Mishawaka partnered on a DesignBuild project of a 16,569 square foot commercial building along the Saint Joe River on the prime spot of the former Uniroyal property in Mishawaka.
- The design includes balconies and ground-level patios overlooking the Riverwalk.
- The building is part of a mixed-use urban development area that will include restaurants, shops, and condominiums.
